

Joseph Dane and Chris Coles both grew up in a small town on the coast of Maine and played ice hockey together for the local High School team, Joseph as the goalie and Chris as one of the forwards. After graduating from college, Joseph received a Ph.D from Columbia University and spent most of his career teaching at USC in Los Angeles, while Chris went on to attend the National Film School in UK and worked for 20+ years as a Line Producer in the LA film industry before deciding to pursue a career as an artist with shows in Los Angeles, New York, Singapore, Bangkok and Phnom Penh. Both Joseph and Chris have spent almost every summer of their lives sailing up and down their beloved coast of Maine, contemplating the islands, bays, rocks and weather.

Joseph Dane is author who lives and works on the coast of Maine and Southern California.

Chris Coles is an artist and author who lives and works on the coast of Maine and in Southeast Asia.
